Eight Hours, or Ten

The New York Independent has the following excellent article on "labor strikes" In this article are some pertinent thoughts happily presented and followed out.

The strike in New York just now is remarkable for the character of the demand made by the workmen They do not complain that their wages are insufficient They could not well do so, for never has labor been more remunerative, but they complain that they are overtasked, that ten hours a day is too much for any man to work, and they demand a reduction of time of labor, the wages to remain the same

It is scarce more than a social truism to say that they have a perfect right to combine for this object or for any other which they think will be of advantage to them One man has the right to refuse to work except for satisfactory wages, and ten men or a thousand have the right to do the same thing simultaneously Indeed this may be the only way open to them to secure a fair share of the profits of any manufacture.

It is no less a social truism to say that a strike becomes indefensible the moment a straw's weight of force is applied to compel employers to yield to the terms demanded, or non-society men to join the strikers. It is the most audacious tyranny for ten men who won't work to say that nine others or one other shan't work. It is that very worst form of tyranny which makes a mob master, [illegible] of one man A body of strikers ought to have self respect enough to frown down all violence And yet we have seen during the past week men escorted through the street, after the hours of labor, protected on both sides by policemen, because they had been assaulted by those whose views on the labor question differed from theirs We have seen the constabulary of the city set to protect a large piano manufactory, because its proprietors did not feel able or willing to accede to the demands of their workmen, Why, if there had been threats of violence by some mad desperadoes, the great body of workmen should have hurried to surround Steinway's establishment with a cordon of brave men, and should for the good name of their cause, have protected the buildings from injury and the non society men from molestation.

How many hours a man should work is a question which seems, just now and here, not so easy to settle. In the case of women it is very easily settled. In the [illegible] hold generally the principle is that every hour of work secured is so much gain. It is the object aimed at so to arrange one's affairs as to secure every available moment for cooking, cleaning, sewing, and other housework. It is so with the farmer, and just so with everybody who is working for himself, or doing job work, if he has any spark of enterprise. It is so with all professional men at least until they have partly achieved their ambitions, and have secured a considerable capital All such people who have an interest in the product of their labor, are only anxious to make their labor cover as many and not as few hours as possible. It is only men on day's wages that ask for eight hours.

The principle which the latter lay down they have put into the motto "Eight hours for labor, eight hours for sleep, and eight hours for improvement and rest," or, as the German banners put the last clause, eight hours for "restauration"

We do not believe in this glittering motto. In the first place, eight hours is a rather small day's work A man's strength is not exhausted in that time He can do as much in the two additional hours as in any two of those that have gone before The plea that as much work would be done in eight hours as in the ten has been disproved by the official reports of Government workshops into which the new plan has been introduced, Then, again, an ambitious man—and Americans are all ambitious—wants to get all the money he can, and will want to work more than eight hours, that he may get more than eight hours pay To be sure, he might work two or three extra hours about his own house, if he lives in the country and has one, but that is not his skilled labor, nor is it most profitable to him It is absurd to suppose that he could get as much money for eight hours as for ten Indeed, additional wages have been offered by the employers for ten hours' work above what the strikers demand for eight hours A demand for eight hours work will be sure to be in the interest of inefficiency and laziness, rather than of enterprise, ambition, and thrift. The cry of the strike is of an unfortunate sort. Men who complain that they do not want to do all they can and to earn all they can are not a class of workmen to be proud of They are not the sort who should dictate in a strike

But we are told that the demand is for eight hours of reading and social intercourse, of mental and moral improvement If such were the case we might yield our objections, though we believe that there is no such efficient lever for mental and moral improvement as ambition coupled with steady industry But we fear the German "restauration" expresses the idea better which most of the strikers have in view for the eight hours not given to work or sleep We are familiar with the word on the signs of the beer gardens Lagerbier and Restauration It is true that eight hours allows more time for reading and study and the pleasures of home, but it also allows more time for idling about and doing worse than nothing If we could be convinced that the favorite war cry of the strikes of the day were the expression of any genuine feeling of want we might join in shouting it We would that we could believe that in a majority of cases the extra time secured would be spent in any more profitable way than in labor for wages But, so far as we can judge the plea for release does not come from those who are most likely to make their leisure profitable to their own minds or to their families Indeed it is beyond question that there are no more intelligent and domestic classes of the community than those which like our farmers and our professional men are ever seeking how to increase, rather than to abridge their hours of labor While we would not re-enact the English laws of four centuries ago which punished idlers with the pillory and with death, on the ground that such men were of no use to the world and had no business to live we would not have Americans lose their old characteristic energy and their ambition for honorable and profitable labor and for as much of it as possible

The State Revenue

I [illegible] to a revenue adequate for State purposes [illegible] is likely to be an embarrassing problem [illegible] at the approaching session [illegible] Republican Assembly [illegible] make provision [illegible] will be called [illegible] large amounts of indebtedness incurred under Democratic administration during the last [illegible]

Sometime ago we charged that the appropriations made at the last session of the Legislature were being largely overdrawn. This was denied by some of the organs in the interest of the Grover administration but it is true, and there is positive proof of the act. At the last session the sum of fifty thousand dollars was appropriated for erection of a Penitentiary. Grover and Watkinds have gone far beyond this appropriation. Expenditures on account of the Penitentiary building already amount to one hundred and thirty thousand dollars, or eighty thousand dollars more than was appropriated. That is to say vouchers have been issued for eighty thousand dollars in excess of the appropriation. Other funds are also reported to be over drawn. An indebtedness of at least one hundred thousand dollars and it may be much more has thus been incurred by a Democratic administration, which Republicans must find a way to pay.

In California last year when Republicans took hold of the State administration they found that the various appropriations had been largely overdrawn, the aggregate amount exceeding one million dollars. We now find the same thing in Oregon, only in less degree as the revenues of our state are smaller than those of California. Doubtless these illustrations are to be taken as conclusive proofs of the uniform tendency of the Democracy to "economical" administration.

It is time an appropriation were made for the erection of a Capitol at Salem. A suitable building should also be provided for keeping the insane. In regard to this last, provision might be made for erecting two wings of an Asylum which would answer a temporary purpose. The main building could be erected at a future day. It will be seen that if these things are done (and they should be done) it will be necessary for the Legislature to study the question of revenue for what with the payment of the indebtedness of the Grover administration and appropriations for these new objects, together with making provision to meet the ordinary current expenses of the State Government, interest on Wallamet lock bonds, etc., a good deal of revenue will be required. A help toward raising this revenue can be obtained through radical reform in the mode of assessment, on some such principles as we have set forth in former articles. The problem is one which will call for serious study. It will press for consideration, for if we are going to erect costly buildings we must have more revenue. In fact, we must have it to pay expenses already incurred.

What Mr. Greeley Thinks of Those Whom He Wants to Vote for Him

Through the zealous efforts of the New York World to prevent the acceptance of Mr Greeley at Baltimore, Democratic readers of that paper are being edified by a good deal of new doctrine in the way of advice and reproof, which has hitherto been published in the New York Tribune, from the trenchant pen of Mr Greeley. The following, for instance, first greeted the astonished eyes of a great many Democrats in the World, where it was paraded to show them the opinion that Mr. Greeley has always entertained of them until he became a candidate for the Presidency:

> Political intelligence is disseminated and political bias given through two main channels—the newspaper and the grog shop. The latter is opposed to us and cannot be changed. Ninety nine of every hundred barrooms and drinking saloons are intensely, efficiently Democratic—or, as Mike Walsh proclaimed them, "nurseries of Democracy." A township or village which is without one of these "nurseries," either within its bounds or conveniently near them, is morally certain to be Republican, while one which is cursed with an overplus of tippling-houses is almost uniformly against us. We cannot change this, we can only counteract it. Let us spend one dollar in circulating newspapers where our adversaries squander ten in their drunkard manufactories, and we cannot be beaten.
> But it will not do to wait till the eve of the Presidential election. The enemy is sowing tares at this hour. Every youth who is learning to sip and soak in the grogshops is being fashioned to the uses of sham Democracy. His virtuous parents may think otherwise—may be ignorant of his haunts and habits; but, if he is learning to love liquor and loose company, he is being fashioned to the ends of the adversary. Hence the Democratic managers and oracles almost uniformly hate and revile the Temperance Reform even when personally temperate. They know that its triumph is their damage, and probable defeat. There is not a State in the Union whereof the Democratic party is not conspicuously hostile to whatever legislation tends to diminish the number or the power of its grogshops.

With great severity of language the Herald denounces what it calls the "bayonet election law." To secure honest elections is the interest and effect of this law. It is simply a barrier against violence and fraud, and is not at all in the way of honest people. The Herald should be careful how it opposes this law. The candidate of its party, Mr Greeley was the first to suggest it. He demanded its enactment as a means of preventing Democratic frauds, and said that though it could apply only to Congressional and Presidential elections, he "heartily wished it could be made to apply to all others."

There is no record whatever of anything yet accomplished, or even undertaken, for Oregon by Senator Kelly. The seat he occupies would be as well vacant. It was exceedingly unfortunate for Oregon that in the political lottery of two years ago she drew a blank. Worse than all, she can have no opportunity to correct the blunder for four years more.

The majority against Wilson east of the Cascade mountains this year 467. Two years ago it was 609. In the last election the majority against him outside of Multnomah county was 749. This year the majority against him outside of Multnomah is [illegible] Four years ago the majority for Smith, over Logan outside of Multnomah, was 1138.

At the last session of the Legislature the pay of the Clerk of the Supreme Court, which had previously consisted of fees was increased by a fixed salary and is now a very handsome thing. It enables its fortunate possessor who is, of course a Democrat, the salary being created for his benefit, to play bean poker the year round.

The friends of the Cincinnati nominees persist in doing them up in rhyme. Here is a specimen:

CITY.

RED FLAGS —The following joke is told of a young farmer who has just come from one of the agricultural districts of the interior. This young man came into the city on horseback on Thursday to transact some business. Prior to starting from home he had heard something about the exaggerated prevalence of small pox in the city. He was unsophisticated in the ways of city life but had learned that when and wherever a red flag was displayed it indicated the existence of that loathsome scourge. As he was coming along down First street he was dreadfully frightened on seeing a red flag hanging out in front of a house where an auction sale of furniture was being held at the time. Mr Farmer suddenly wheeled his horse around and galloped down Front street. Coming down to the foot of Morrison street he took a second scare at the red flag exposed in front of Cheap John's and took to First street again. He went down that street to Stark thence to Front street. Here he saw the flag at Richardson's auction store and crossed the ferry with all possible dispatch to East Portland stating to all he met that the city was but little better than a pest house. He saw one more red flag in East Portland and then made for Powell's Valley in great alarm and entire disgust not daring to cross the river again.

DEDICATION CEREMONIES—BANQUET, &c —The Masonic Temple will be dedicated this afternoon at 2 o clock P M. A public procession will be formed of the Grand Lodge and the several Masonic organizations of the city. The route of procession will be hereafter arranged by the Grand Marshal. The public are invited to attend the dedication ceremonies.

A grand banquet given by the ladies of the Eastern Star assisted by the wives and daughters of Master Masons in the main hall of the Temple Building on Tuesday evening at half past eight o clock. None but Master Masons their wives and families will be permitted to attend. Tickets for supper $3 ladies free. Master of Ceremonies at Banquet A B Richardson Esq. Reception Committee J C Ainsworth John McCraken J N Dolph L E Hicks and C P Ferry.

SCHOONER AUGUSTA —Walter Moffet's little schooner Augusta was hauled out on the ways yesterday about one mile and a half above the city, on what is known as the Terwilliger farm. Considerable work had already been done to the vessel before she was taken out of the water. Now that she has been placed on the ways the Augusta will be cut in two and lengthened. The contract required that the craft should be ready to launch in fifteen days from the time she was beached but it will probably be the middle of next month before the Augusta will be ready to take the water again.

BISHOP SCOTT GRAMMAR SCHOOL —We learn that there is a prospect of this school being enlarged this summer by converting the large basement into a dining room and erecting a wing on the north side of the present building 25x60 feet three stories high with a tower connecting the floors with the floors of the present building. The first expenditure will be about $5 000 of which $3,000 are already subscribed. The second floor will be used as a Chapel. This wing will add much to the beauty of the building, and provide for quite a large increase of pupils. The plans are prepared by Mr Jordan.

EQUINE CRUELTY —A horse tamer who endeavored to imitate Professor Rarey up street, on Tuesday succeeded in getting the animal to lie down but entirely failed to induce it to rise again. He used every persuasive argument known to the equine profession but to no purpose. At length maddened to desperation by his failures he tied a rope to the under jaw of the animal, and by cruelly lacerating its tongue and mouth succeeded in causing it to resume its feet. When will there be a limit set to cruelties inflicted on these dumb and patient animals?

ACCEPTED —The committee to whom was referred the acceptance or rejection of an original poem to be read in connection with the exercises on the Fourth, have accepted an original poem from the pen of Stephen Maybell, of East Portland. This gentleman has written several poems of considerable literary merit for the press of this city, which have appeared from time to time. The poem which has been accepted is a very appropriate and meritorious piece of composition.

GENERAL COMMITTEE —The General Committee to make arrangement for the celebration of the Fourth met last evening at the Armory. Reports from all the Committees were received and adopted. The reports were very encouraging. The reports of the Grand Marshal, in regard to the line of march, order of exercises, etc was adopted and ordered published in the morning papers. The Committee then adjourned to meet again on next Tuesday evening.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS —The several public schools of the city will close on the 3d of next month. For the last week or more the school at the Central school house has been discontinued. This suspension was caused by the fear of contagion from small pox and because the building is undergoing some repairs and additions. The other two schools of the city will not be dismissed until the close of the school year.

SAILED —The steamer Ajax sailed for San Francisco last evening carrying away the following passengers: J W Cook Geo Hart Mrs J H Shindler F Elliott W H Shaper R B Kellogg F McNair J F Williamson Miss Belle Hanson and servant, J W Whalley James L Shavage Wells, Fargo & Co's messenger and 25 in the steerage.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS —At a meeting of Ellison Encampment No 1 I O O F held on last Tuesday evening the following officers were elected to serve for the ensuing six months: Joseph S Kidder C P, C W Parrish, H P, L E Hicks S W, Jacob Thompson, J W, John H Lyon, Scribe, Chas Hegele, Treasurer.

PORTLAND ACADEMY —The students of Portland Academy will be examined in the following branches to day: Botany logic arithmetic trigonometry first book in Latin Greek and geology. During the afternoon there will be a contest for prizes for the best declamations and recitations. All are cordially invited to be present.

EXAMINATION —Students at the Portland Academy and Female Seminary were examined in the following studies yesterday: Forenoon—Arithmetic, First Book Greek, Algebra, First Book Latin. Afternoon—Logic, Botany, Trigonometry and Geology. Examination of other studies will be resumed this morning at 9 o clock.

DAMAGE SLIGHT —By a private dispatch received on Tuesday evening it was ascertained that the damage sustained by the steamer [illegible] in her recent disaster was comparatively slight in comparison with what was at first apprehended. It is thought that ten days repair will place her in running condition.

FATAL RESULTS —The man B F White who fell from a scaffold at Thompson's building on Monday afternoon and fractured his skull died at the Kellogg House yesterday afternoon from the effects of his injuries. The deceased lived near McMinnville where we learn his friends and relatives reside.

RED MEN —A meeting was held by the Improved Order of Red Men in this city on Tuesday evening last. The following officers were elected to serve for the ensuing six months: Charles M Martin, S; H T Hudson S S; John Masters J S; George C Sears C of R; J [illegible] Smith K of W.

THE REHEARSAL —The grand rehearsal of several appropriate national choruses to be sung at the coming Fourth will take place tomorrow (Friday) evening at Philharmonic Hall to commence at 8 o clock sharp. Let every one who has a voice come out and assist in this matter.

AN OLD EDITOR —Captain B McDonald well known in political circles in this State and some years ago editor of the [illegible] has recently departed from an [illegible] for [illegible], whither he goes to assume an editorial position on one of the leading journals of that city.

HELD TO ANSWER —Ed Wilson and Ben Marshal were examined yesterday before Justice Grubb on a charge of subornation of perjury. They were each held to answer —Marshal in the sum of $500 and Wilson in the sum of $500—before the grand jury.

FUNERAL —The funeral of Mrs S S Kane will take place from the Taylor street M E Church this morning at 10 o clock.

COMMON COUNCIL

REGULAR MEETING JUNE 26 1872

The Common Council met last evening at the Chamber at 8 o clock, Mayor Wasserman presiding.

Members Present: Burton, Besser, Combs, Caywood, Hill, Hallock, Moffet and Story. Absent: Cogal.

Minutes of the previous evening read and adopted.

PETITIONS AND COMMUNICATIONS.

A petition from H [illegible] and others for the improvement of Park and West Park streets was read and referred to the Committee on Streets and Public Property.

A petition from Bates Stimpson and others asking for the improvement of North Second street between F and G streets was read and referred to Committee on Streets and Public Property.

The following communication from H R Leonard & Co was read:

PORTLAND June 26 1872

TO THE HONORABLE THE COMMON COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF PORTLAND: Having at a previous meeting come before your honorable body with a petition for the grant of a franchise now owned by the city of Portland for building a bridge across the Wallamet river and delay in acting upon said petition having occurred as we conceive because Councilmen desire to be fully informed as to all the bearings of the subject before committing themselves in the matter we venture to address you this note.

Our proposition is embodied in the Ordinance which has been read before the Council by its Clerk. For the faithful performance of all the provisions of that Ordinance we have submitted a bond of ten thousand dollars signed by a few of our friends whose aggregate pecuniary responsibility reaches a million and a half. We have made all necessary calculations on the subject and seek the privilege of building the bridge because it promises a larger return for our money and labor than any other thing in the State. The Ordinance submitted by us shortens the time for complying with its conditions so that we cannot hold our privileges more than a few days without diligently carrying on the work. Delay or default on our part would not only cause the franchise to revert to the city, but would work a forfeiture of our bond. We have no doubt of our ability to complete the bridge within the time and in the manner designated if we get the franchise at once but unless the work can be begun very shortly a delay of one year must necessarily be endured by our citizens. Our design is to build all piers during this Summer and Fall, taking care to have them above the ordinary freshet mark before the rainy season sets in. Next Spring work will be vigorously pushed on the spans and draw, so that they may be ready for placing in position against the highest mark of the back water flood in June. It will be readily seen that if your honorable body should postpone a disposition of this subject for a much longer time that no company can begin the bridge before the setting in of good weather next year and consequently could not finish it before the expiration of two years from the time of obtaining the franchise.

In regard to the situation of the franchise at present attorneys acting for us have carefully examined the legal bearings and have concluded "that the relations between the City and the P D & S L R R Co is not at an end (simply) by reason of the Common Council refusing to adopt the plan of bridge submitted by the Company but that (thereafter) the Council have the right to declare the contract made, pursuant to Ordinance between the City and Company, null and void, and all rights accrued to the Company thereunder forfeited."

It will be seen from the above that no action would be against the City on account of any further disposition of the franchise but that the Council can with impunity vest the right to build the bridge in any party judged fit.

In conclusion we beg to assure your honorable body that as we believe the bridge will make its owners rich so we are anxious to get the franchise and if successful in that will proceed at once to the work of construction. We propose to build a good bridge and build it quickly.

Respectfully,
H R LEONARD & CO

REPORTS

A report from the viewers in the matter of the extensions of Ninth, Tenth and Eleventh streets, and the losses and benefits resulting to owners of property adjacent. Reports in the matter of each street were referred to the Committee on Streets and Public Property.

CLAIMS

The following claims against the city were audited and warrants ordered drawn in favor of each: John Barrett, for pipe and gas fitting $29 50; Engine Co No 3 for hose $28 34; H L Pittock, $4 80; Oregon Bulletin printing notice of city election, $16 50. The claim of the viewers in the matter of the extension of Ninth Tenth and Eleventh streets for twelve days work at $4 each—total, $144 was on motion of Councilman Hill referred to the Committee on Streets and Public property.

ORDINANCE

An ordinance from the Committee on Health and Police recommending an appropriation of $1 000 out of the general fund for the care of small pox patients, read second and third time and passed.

An ordinance from the Committee on Health and Police amending an ordinance entitled an ordinance to protect the public from dangerous and contagious diseases read third time and referred back to the same committee for revision.

An ordinance from the same committee in relation to the providing of a Board of Health referred to the same Committee.

An ordinance authorizing the Committee on Streets and Public Property to erect lamps and lamposts at suitable points along the streets, read second and third time and passed.

An ordinance authorizing H R Leonard his associates and assigns to construct a bridge across the Wallamet river with diverging streets and roadways.

On motion of Councilman Combs that portion of the ordinance relating to the construction of street railways embracing three sections of the ordinance was struck out.

The ordinance was then placed on its final passage the vote standing—yeas Besser Burton Hallock Hill Moffett and Story; nays Caywood and Combs.

The resolution accompanying the above ordinance was also passed by the same vote.

On motion the Council adjourned.

A REQUEST —A letter was received in this city last evening by a gentleman from Benj F Peixotto United States Consul at Roumania asking for aid for the Jewish community in that country. The letter described the manner in which the people there were treated: women publicly outraged on the streets and helpless children torn from their mothers breast and their brains dashed out. The letter appealed in the strongest possible terms for pecuniary aid from this country. We learn that a public call will soon be made for money by the Jewish people of this city to aid their suffering persecuted and destitute countrymen.

A NECESSARY VISIT —The much prayed for and long desired rain has condescended to descend in very limited quantities to these Webfoot regions. On Tuesday night a gentle shower fell and at stray intervals yesterday some refreshing mist came down and laid the dust along the streets. Crops are really suffering intensely for the want of a good rain. A shower of about four and twenty hours duration would bring joy and gladness to the farmers and orchardists and add greatly to the prospects of crops.

CELEBRATION OF THE FOURTH —The people near [illegible] Oregon intend celebrating the Fourth by a basket picnic at Waite['s] near the residence of [illegible] W [illegible] about a short distance from the line of the [illegible]. Mr [illegible] will read the Declaration of Independence and [illegible] will be delivered by Mr J [illegible]. Arrangements are making for a pleasant time.

DESTITUTE —It is reported to us that the [illegible] family in destitute and afflicted circumstances residing on [illegible] street between Hall and Harrison in this city and we would call the attention of the charitable to the fact which we learned late last evening. If our information is correct the family should have help forthwith.

MASONIC INSTALLATION

The installation of officers of the Grand Lodge of the order of Masons in Oregon took place at the Masonic Temple in this city last evening. The ceremonies were witnessed by the members of the order in the city visiting brethren and a large number of spectators.

At the time appointed Past Grand Master W D Hare being in the chair installed T M Hurlburt into the office of Grand Master of the Grand Lodge who then proceeded to install the following elected and appointed officers: [illegible] M [illegible] A [illegible] D [illegible] Sen G W [illegible] B C [illegible] J [illegible] T [illegible] Grand Treasurer B [illegible] Grand Secretary R [illegible] F [illegible] and [illegible] J H D Henderson Grand Lecturer T F Campbell Grand Marshal T J [illegible] S [illegible] D [illegible] Hicks Jun G D J W Watson [illegible] Alex Watson J M Fraser [illegible] Standard Bearer D Freeman G Tyler A [illegible] Del [illegible].

The installation ceremonies being closed the Grand Master stated that the Grand Orator Rev F R Geary who had been duly chosen and installed at Salem and had an address for the occasion prepared was unavoidably absent and that Rev T F Campbell had kindly volunteered to address the audience. Rev Mr Campbell was then introduced and delivered a brief and appropriate address on the aims and objects of the order of Masonry. We are unable to give even a synopsis of the address.

Mr DeFrans presided at the organ and interspersed the exercises with excellent music and was rewarded by a vote of thanks by the Grand Lodge at the close.

BUSINESS NOTICES

The ladies will find in another column the new advertisement of Miss Jennie Macnamara. The reputation of the lady in the millinery business is sufficient to attract the fair sex to her gay boudoir of fashion.

THE GROVER & BAKER —Every day may be observed numerous boxes being shipped from No 71 First street. They contain the Grover & Baker sewing machine which has a reputation second to none. Mr W T Shanahan whose card appears elsewhere is the agent for the G & B S M.

DUTCHER'S LIGHTING FLY KILLER
Sweeps them off and clears the house speedily—Try it—Sold by dealers everywhere.

IT IS PRETTY WELL understood that Judge Wilson has been elected to Congress. In the fall the attention of everybody will be taken up with the National election. But notwithstanding these exciting events Joe Kohn & Co 91 Front street are doing a lively trade at their clothing house. The reason of this is that they offer such liberal inducements to those who favor them with a call.

OUR TAILORS —Although there are a very large number of merchant tailoring establishments in this city some of them not excelled in the State, there is not one of them at which a gentleman can be more thoroughly dressed than at that of J O Neil & Co. 93 First street. They have competent fitters and cutters who will do justice to work extended to them. If you want a neat fitting suit and furnishing goods to make the whole rig complete Go to this house.

THE REASON WHY —It is always a pleasure to deal with an individual or a firm when one knows that the managers and their entire corps of assistants endeavor to please their customers. The firm that carries out this idea of management is popular and that firm is Fishel & Roberts corner of Washington and First streets. The new Cutter they have employed has given so much satisfaction that the business has increased wonderfully. One may feel at ease while purchasing anything of this firm. They are introducing new goods by every steamer.

BRANCHING OUT —Persons living in the southern end of the city have certainly observed an innovation at 14 First street between Yamhill and Taylor. This change has been made by Quinn the well known dealer in Fish Game and Poultry who opened this stand as a branch establishment where at all times full supplies of everything in his particular line can be found. At the old stand—Washington street between First and Second also the usual supply of Fish Game and Poultry can be had at any time. Orders left at either place will be promptly filled.

THE UMATILLA HOUSE at The Dalles is now completed and furnished in every respect unsurpassed. The office is the most cheerful and pleasant in the State and the dining hall is unequaled. The rooms are all newly furnished. The house has twelve suites of rooms with stoves in them for families. The new house stands much higher than the old one. The ceilings are four feet higher which adds greatly to the cheerfulness of the rooms. The table is kept in a style to correspond fully with the appointments.

This wonderful vegetable restorative is the sheet-anchor of the feeble and debilitated. As a tonic and cordial for the aged and languid it has no equal among stomachics. As a remedy for the nervous weakness to which women are especially subject, it is superseding every other stimulant. In all climates tropical, temperate or frigid it acts as a specific in every species of disorder which undermines the bodily strength and breaks down the animal spirits.

PROSPECTUS.

THE THROUGH LINE!

A RAILROAD JOURNAL TO BE PUBLISHED weekly in the city of Portland Oregon devoted to the interests of railroads and kindred subjects, and especially to the success of the

Portland Dalles and Salt Lake Railroad

In the interest of this road we have already made one campaign wherein against great odds our efforts have been crowned with a fair measure of success. It is now a fixed fact recognized by the Government and becoming attractive to men of capital and influence.

With the issuance of this prospectus we enter upon a second campaign in which the friends of the great work will find it profitable to be united, firm and persistent.

We shall early discuss the subject of legitimate and reasonable State aid in the prosecution of the work and as an endorsement of the importance of this deservedly popular enterprise.

Preparatory to a renewal of our efforts at the next session of Congress we shall fully discuss the national and local importance of the Portland Dalles and Salt Lake Railroad and through the instrumentality of The Through Line familiarize members of Congress and the American public with the subject in all its bearings. The discussion will cover the whole ground and no fact or matter which may be deemed of importance will be allowed to pass unnoticed.

The successful completion of the railroads embraced in the system of the Pacific Northwest, we shall give our hearty support in all that is fair and just, and especially shall we endeavor to keep alive and make useful that public sentiment in Oregon everywhere manifested in behalf of the Portland Dalles and Salt Lake Railroad.

Our knowledge of the several roads embraced in this system their origin and progress the various laws that have been passed concerning them and the country through which they pass, will enable us to give, from time to time the American and European reader reliable and important information connected therewith.

Our friends should be especially vigilant in getting subscribers and giving The Through Line a wide circulation. We have made arrangements for its publication and shall employ a competent assistant in the Editorial Department. It will be a twenty column paper, and the first number will be issued on or about the 20th of June next. Subscription $2 50 per annum.

GAMBLING FOR A LIFE.

All was a scene of gayety in the pretty village of F——, situated in one of the most fertile districts in the rich State of Kentucky. The occasion of the joyous demonstration was one of mingled pleasure and pain. The United States had called upon her sons to brave the dangers of war, the country was aroused and an army under the starry flag was about to invade Mexico.

In F—— a gallant company of citizen soldiers had been raised, and upon the morrow were to leave their pleasant homes for the scene of war.

It was the night before their departure, and one of the wealthy citizens of the town had given a grand farewell entertainment in their honor, and thus all was a pleasant confusion in preparing for the gay scene at Judge Bonner's large and handsome mansion. The generous old Judge had spared neither pains nor expense to make the entertainment one of great magnificence, and when the evening arrived received his numerous guests, aided by his only child, a daughter of seventeen years of age.

Lida Bonner, was the acknowledged belle of F——, and she was beloved for her beauty and lovely character not only by the young gallants of the village but also by her school companions, for at the opening of this story she was yet a school girl.

The company from F—— was commanded by Captain Roy Worthington, a planter of means, and as handsome as he was popular. His first lieutenant was one of his most intimate friends, and yet between the two there came a slight cloud, for both Roy Worthington and Dart Bradford loved Lida Bonner. To both of the young men the beautiful girl listened, for she was a sad coquette, but toward the gallant captain her heart had awakened with feelings of love, and yet neither knew his fate at her hands upon that day, the eve of their departure for far Mexico.

"Lida, are you totally indifferent to me? Can I not hope, even if I may hope to return once more to dear old F——, that you will not have forgotten me?" said Roy.

"Indeed you are dear to me, Roy, and I promise that you shall not be forgotten."

"Do you love me, Lida? Will you promise me this little hand upon my return?"

"I promise, Roy." And thus the two pledged their love, and once more entered the brilliantly illuminated parlors of the mansion, for they had strolled away into the gardens.

"Miss Lida, this is my dance, I believe?" And Dart Bradford stood beside the lovers.

"Yes. I'll see you again, Roy." And the young girl was whirled away in the waltz.

"Will you promenade once around the garden, Lida?"

"Yes, Dart, for how can I refuse you brave soldiers anything?" And the blue eyes were turned with full force upon her companion.

For some moments they walked in silence, and then Dart Bradford stopped suddenly and said:

"Lida, I asked you to come here that I might tell you I loved you, that—"

"Sh—Dart, do not pain me. Let me be frank with you, for I would not raise a hope in your heart that I cannot fulfil. I am engaged to another—"

"That other is—"

"Roy Worthington, your best friend."

"Be it so, Miss Bonner. Shall we return to the mansion?" And offering his arm, they were soon again mingling mid the gay dancers.

From the village in old Kentuck the scene has changed to Mexico. Seated within a tent in the Mexican lines are two young officers, unarmed, and their surroundings prove they are prisoners. Though pale and with saddened faces, easily to be recognized, are Roy Worthington and Dart Bradford. The former wears his left arm in a sling and appears to be suffering, although his face looks brave and determined.

"Well, Dart, thus will end the ambitions and bright dreams of one of us; which 'tis hard to say."

"Yes, Roy. Our poor company sacrificed in that last desperate charge and ourselves prisoners of war, you wounded, and one of us condemned to die in retaliation for the officer spy whom General Taylor had shot some days since. It is really too bad."

An officer entered dressed in the gorgeous Mexican uniform.

"Gentlemen," he said, "it is the decision that one of you must die. The commanding officer has determined not to make the selection, but that you shall play a game of chance—that is, gamble for your lives—the victor to be spared."

"That were useless. Let me the victim." And Roy Worthington stepped forward, while a gleam of hope spread over Dart Bradford's face.

"You are brave and generous, young sir, but I prefer the game of chance to settle it," said the commanding officer, entering the tent, accompanied by his aides.

"What say you, Dart?"

"Very well, let us end this farce." And Dart Bradford's face darkened.

Seated at the table, dice were placed before the two young officers, and while the Mexicans stood around eagerly watching the result the throwing for life or death commenced. Three dice were used and three throws allowed to each officer, the one throwing the highest number was to escape. Roy Worthington was the first to begin, and, with a firm hand, he rattled the dice in the box and threw them upon the table.

"Three, five, and six—fourteen! Throw again, sir," said the Mexican commander. "Four, six, and five—fifteen! You throw well sir. Once more. Two sixes and a three—fifteen! Twice fifteen and fourteen are forty-four. Now it is your turn, sir." And the box was handed to Dart Bradford, who took it with a hand that slightly trembled, and threw the dice upon the table.

"One, two, and—" But before the last number could be counted Dart's hat fell from his head upon the table and one of them was knocked upon the ground.

"How unlucky! You'll have to commence over again, sir. Now!"

Again taking the box, Dart made another throw, and the Mexican called out.

"Two, three, and four—nine!" A deadly pallor spread over the young officer's face as he again threw the dice upon the table. "Three sixes! You are in luck, sir. That throw may have saved you. Now, try again."

The hand holding the dice box visibly shook as the last throw was made; but ere the dice could be counted by the Mexican, the table gave way from the weight upon it, and again the little regular blocks, upon whose numbers a life hung, were scattered.

A frown darkened the commander's brow, and several of his staff conversed together in low tones as the table was being set up again, and the last chance was given. The throw was made.

"Three sixes! Eighteen and twenty-seven are forty five. You have won, sir. A close game of chance," said the Mexican, as Dart sprang to his feet unable to conceal his great joy at his escape.

"Well, Dart, I have lost. Here, old fellow, are my papers, watch, and pocket-book. This ring belongs now to Lida. I made my will in her favor before we left F——. Good-bye, old fellow, and tell them at home I died bravely. Gentlemen, I am ready." And, with a firm bearing, the American turned to his captors and was led away to execution, while Dart Bradford was forwarded to the lines to be exchanged for a Mexican officer of equal rank with himself.

Three years went by. Peace once more reigned in the land, and the shattered remnant of the F—— Guards returned to their homes crowned with victory.

Dart Bradford returned with them, but with the rank of colonel, for he had been promoted to that grade.

Upon reaching the American lines after the game of life he had played with poor Roy Worthington, he had forwarded the things to Lida Bonner entrusted to his care, and told her of what had happened, and that he had begged Roy to let him die in his stead, as no ties of requited love bound him to the world with anticipations of future happiness.

Lida deeply mourned for Roy and wrote Dart a beautiful letter thanking him for the noble part he had acted toward his rival and friend, for she believed all that he had said, and upon the return of the gallant colonel it was not many weeks before he gained the promise of Lida to become his wife.

The joy of her bridal-eve was dimmed to Lida Bonner by the thought of poor Roy, lying far away in a foreign land, for though she loved Dart with a true affection, she could not feel for him the same deep love she had given his friend.

All was in readiness for the ceremony, the minister stood, book in hand, ready to join Dart Bradford and Lida Bonner together as man and wife, when the maiden uttered a shriek, just as she entered the parlor leaning upon the arm of her father, and swooned away.

All present were transfixed with amazement, for there before them, beside the open balcony window, stood Roy Worthington, emaciated and pale, as if by long suffering, and dressed in his blue uniform. He stood before them, and gazed sternly upon his former friend, Dart Bradford.

"Why Roy, we all thought you dead; what does this mean?" said Dart, stepping forward.

"It means, sir, that by false representations you are now standing where I should be, the promised husband of Lida Bonner."

"Sir, you presume, I——"

"Pardon me—not that I anticipate that I may ever again win the affections of Miss Bonner; but to open her eyes to the character of the man she is going to marry, I now say what I do," and as Roy Worthington spoke he stepped forward and faced the assembled guests, while Lida, having returned to consciousness, was an attentive listener.

"When a prisoner in Mexico with Colonel Bradford, one of us was doomed to die; a game of chance was to decide between us—I lost, fairly I believed, for I trusted my friend was honorable; he won life, and was exchanged the same day. The commander of the Mexicans spared my life, long years I was a prisoner, and now that the war is over I have returned home, and with me is my friend General Valdo De Riva, who now will explain the conduct of Colonel Bradford when we gambled for our lives." Roy Worthington ceased speaking; as he did so a gorgeously uniformed officer stepped from the balcony and stood beside him. The skin and quick black eye denoted his nation, as well as his uniform, as in a broken accent he said.

"This gentleman and that one were my prisoners; my Government demanded one shot, in retaliation for a Mexican officer shot by General Taylor. I wished not to make a choice, so left it to a game of chance who should die. Captain Worthington acted most honorably; that man dishonorably and as a coward, for he cheated, as myself and staff will verify, while his friend nobly offered to take his place. Thus, I saved him as a prisoner for the war. Now we stand here to face that coward," and the Mexican's eyes fell upon Dart Bradford.

"Go! never come near me again!" and Lida Bonner pointed to the door, while her angry eyes turned upon the man whom in a few moments more would have been her husband.

"Captain Worthington, you have my warmest welcome home; Colonel Bradford, leave my house," and as Judge Bonner spoke he grasped Roy's hand.

"Curse you all for this," exclaimed Dart Bradford, and he left the house. Nay more, he left the State, and has never since been heard from, while the brave man whom he had deceived soon after married Lida Bonner, the only woman he had ever loved, and General De Riva was his groomsman, for between the American and the Mexican a warm friendship had sprung into existence.

The Bureau of Statistics has issued a statement of the foreign trade of the United States for the first eight months of the current fiscal year. This exhibit shows imports amounting to $391,670,674, against $320,471,018 of domestic exports reduced to specie values, and $14,-804,030 of foreign exports. For the corresponding period of the previous fiscal year the imports were $330,-110,758, against $321,351,463 of domestic exports, reduced to specie values, and $16,861,[illegible] of foreign exports. Our imports this year have been largely increased, with but a slight increase of our exports. We have exported $36,464,512 of domestic specie and bullion and $5,019,295 of foreign specie, making an aggregate of $35,483,807. Our imports of specie have been $7,-635,485. This shows a net outgo of specie amounting to $27,843,322.

Advices from California represent the condition of the Wool trade about as follows: The market is very weak, with no prospect of an advance. Manufacturers are buying only sufficient to keep their mills running, anticipating a further decline. Meanwhile large quantities are pressing forward for a market. The spring clip of California is estimated at 14,000,000 pounds, much of which has already been received at San Francisco, and much of it sent East by rail. It is believed that those who have already sold their wool have realized higher prices than can be obtained for a year to come.

Mining Intelligence

The mining season in our eastern counties and in the Territories adjoining us is proving quite favorable. Results are encouraging, and every effort has been made to utilize the water before the commencement of the dry season.

A letter from Eldorado, Baker county, says: "About seven hundred inches of water are running through the Burnt river ditch into Eldorado City, which will soon be increased to twelve hundred. Mines looking well. The great quantities of snow in the Blue Mountains will furnish a good supply of water this season. Claims that have been opened are paying well. Messrs. D. B. Buford, of Rock Island, Illinois, and B. P. Eaton, of Chicago, are at the Eldorado mines. They are largely interested in the ditch property, and are highly pleased with the country and its mining prospects. The present appearance of things in Baker county certainly promises a bright future for placer mining in Eastern Oregon."

After a run of twenty five days, the Virtue quartz mill, near Baker City, cleaned up $5,[illegible]. Better rock has since been reached. The ledge is from one to two feet in width, and the rock works easily. The mill is stopped for a short time until a shaft can be sunk on the main ledge, so as to afford better facilities for getting at the rock.

In the Eagle Creek District, Union county, more miners are at work than usual. The gold obtained is very fine, and commands a high price. The yield of the district this year will be much in excess of that of former seasons. As the water falls work will be resumed on the bars of Snake river, chiefly by Chinese.

In the mines of Grant county the yield this year is fair, but the placer mines are gradually giving out. There are rich ledges innumerable in the whole eastern section of country, which will one day be successfully developed.

NATIONAL REPUBLICAN PLATFORM

The Republican Party of the United States assembled in National Convention in the city of Philadelphia on the 5th and 6th days of June, 1872, again declares its faith, appeals to its history, and announces its position upon the questions before the country:

1. During eleven years of its supremacy it has accepted with grand courage the solemn duties of the time. It suppressed a gigantic rebellion, emancipated four millions of slaves, decreed the equal citizenship of all and established universal suffrage. [illegible] Menacing foreign difficulties have been peacefully and honorably compromised, and the honor and power of the Nation kept in high respect throughout the world. [illegible] we believe that the people will not entrust the Government to any party or combination of men composed chiefly of those who chiefly have resisted every step in this beneficial progress.

2. Complete liberty and exact equality in the enjoyment of all civil, political and public rights should be established and effectually maintained throughout the Union, by efficient and appropriate State and Federal legislation. Neither the law nor its administration should admit of any discrimination in respect of citizens by reason of race, creed, color, or previous condition of servitude.

3. The recent amendments to the National Constitution should be cordially sustained because they are right, not merely tolerated because they are law, and should be carried out according to their spirit by appropriate legislation, the enforcement of which can be safely trusted only to the party that secured the amendments.

4. The National Government should seek to maintain an honorable peace with all nations, protecting its citizens everywhere, and sympathizing with all peoples who strive for greater liberty.

5. Any system of civil service under which the subordinate positions of the Government are considered rewards for mere party zeal, is fatally demoralizing, and we therefore favor a reform of the system, by laws which shall abolish the evils of patronage and make honesty, efficiency and fidelity the essential qualifications for public position, without practically creating a life tenure of office.

6. We are opposed to further grants of the public lands to corporations and monopolies, and demand that the National domain be set apart for free homes for the people.

7. The annual revenue, after paying current debts, should furnish a moderate balance for the reduction of the principal of the debt; and the revenue, except so much as may be derived from a tax on tobacco and liquors, should be raised by duties on importations, the details of which should be so adjusted as to aid in securing remunerative wages to labor, and to promote the industries, prosperity and growth of the whole country.

8. We hold in undying honor the soldiers and sailors whose valor saved the Union. Their pensions are a sacred debt of the Nation, and the widows and orphans of those who died for their country are entitled to the care of a generous and grateful people. [illegible]

9. The doctrine of Great Britain and other European powers concerning allegiance—"once a subject always a subject"—having at last, through the efforts of the Republican party, been abandoned, and the American idea of the right of an individual to transfer his allegiance having been accepted by European nations, it is the duty of our Government to guard with jealous care the rights of adopted citizens against the assumption of unauthorized claims by their former Governments, and we urge continued and careful encouragement and protection to voluntary emigration.

10. The franking privilege ought to be abolished and a way prepared for reduction in the rates of postage.

11. Among the questions which press for attention is that which concerns the relations of capital and labor, and the Republican party recognize the duty of shaping legislation so as to secure full protection and ample field for capital, and for labor which creates capital, the largest opportunities and a just share of the mutual profits of these two great servants of civilization.

12. We hold that Congress and the President have only fulfilled an important duty in their measures for the suppression of violent and treasonable organizations in certain lately rebellious regions and for the protection of the ballot, and therefore they are entitled to the thanks of the Nation.

13. We denounce the repudiation of public debts, in any form or disguise, as a national crime. We witness with pride the reduction of the principal of that debt, and of the rates of interest upon the balance, and confidently expect that our excellent national currency will be perfected by a speedy resumption to specie payment.

14. The Republican party is mindful of its obligations to the loyal women of America for their noble devotion to the cause of freedom, their admission to wider fields of usefulness is received with satisfaction, and the honest demands of any class of citizens for additional rights should be treated with respectful consideration.

15. We heartily approve the action of Congress in extending amnesty to those lately in rebellion, and rejoice in the growth of peace and fraternal feeling throughout the land.

16. The Republican party proposes to respect all rights reserved by the people to themselves, as carefully as the powers delegated by them to the State and Federal governments. It disapproves of resorting to unconstitutional laws for the purpose of removing evils by interference with rights not surrendered by the people to either the State or National Government.

17. It is the duty of the General Government to adopt such measures as will tend to encourage American commerce and ship-building.

18. We believe that the modest patriotism, the earnest purpose, sound judgment, practical wisdom, incorruptible integrity and illustrious services of U. S. Grant have commended him to the heart of the American people, and with him at our head we start to-day upon a new march to victory.

NEW REMEDIES, NEW [illegible]

Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,

623 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhoea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

DR. GIBBON has the pleasure of announcing [illegible] he has returned from visiting the principal [illegible] of Europe, and has resumed practice at his [illegible] Kearny street, corner of Commercial, [illegible] where his old patients and those requiring his [illegible] may find him.

The Doctor has spared neither time nor money in [illegible] ing out new remedies, and has returned with facilities for the alleviation of human suffering.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a [illegible] existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or [illegible] absorbed into the system! Look at their [illegible] ted and disfigured faces and their broken-down [illegible] tions, disqualifying them for the happiness of [illegible] or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid [illegible] sands suffer until death closes the scene. Let guardians, friends, attend to those who are [illegible] any of those horrible, life-destroying [illegible] they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to DR. GIBBON, a physician [illegible] made private diseases his especial study for years [illegible] is certain to cure the most inveterate case, [illegible] cury or any injurious drugs. It is important to [illegible] are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the [illegible] of their friends, to be careful of the many [illegible] doctors who infest all cities, publishing their [illegible] ing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of these charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self-abuse [illegible] solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is [illegible] by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by [illegible] measures, viz: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, [illegible] about the loins, weakness of the limbs, [illegible] blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new [illegible] disposition to shun society, loss of memory, [illegible] pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, feted breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and [illegible] mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove [illegible] to him that he was cured of the complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

MARRIED MEN.

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies, should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them, nor delay to obtain immediate relief.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Dr. Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from [illegible] and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions. By inclosing Ten Dollars coin, in [illegible] letter through the Postoffice or through Wells, Fargo & Co., a package of medicine will be forwarded to any part of the Union.

All communications strictly confidential.

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and [illegible] who, with bogus sworn-to certificates, dupe the unwary. [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] trade. Some are tin-smiths, shoemakers, newspaper carriers, intelligence office keepers, etc. The only way to avoid imposition is to make inquiry—it will cost you nothing, and may save you many regrets, for, as advertising physicians in eight cases out of ten are bogus, there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. Dr. Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus titles, certificates, pretended patients' letters, etc. [illegible] his ability to treat diseases that he proposes to cure.

Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, 623 Kearny street, corner Commercial, San Francisco, Post Office Box 1,957.
